Lunch and Learn: The Neuroscience of Coaching
Facilitated by Ann Betz, CPCC, PCC, MNTC

June 11, 2020  12:15 PM—1:15 PM  via Zoom No RSVP

What is professional coaching, as distinct from other methods of support such as mentoring, advising, teaching etc.? Can this model of human development be justified in terms of our current understanding of the brain? In this interactive webinar, we’ll explore the neuroscience of the fundamental tenets of coaching, and look to where our current understanding of the brain points us in terms of best practice in human development.
