Resource of the Month: Fundamentals of Facilitation Module
Password: FWMD2020

The Office of Faculty Affairs and Development has been hard at work meeting faculty where they are to address any needs. With classes well underway, we created the Fundamentals of Facilitation course, which is recommended for all of School of Medicine faculty. Though this course was established to guide our Content Application Session (CAS) facilitators, this course is also helpful for any faculty who need an introduction to the teaching theories and methodologies of small and large group teaching in medical education. If you have any questions, suggestions for additions for the course, or have any issues, please e-mail MDFacultyDev@tcu.edu.
