Congratulations to Sai Chavala, M.D.!

Congratulations to faculty member Sai Chavala, M.D., who has received the 2021 Ludwig Von Sallmann Clinical-Scientist Award from the ARVO Foundation for Eye Research.

Ludwig von Sallmann, M.D., was a distinguished international ophthalmologist and ophthalmic investigator whose contributions greatly increased the basic and clinical understanding of vision and ophthalmology.
Dr. Chavala will be honored and present a lecture on “Retinal Plasticity in Disease and Regeneration” on May 2. Dr. Chavala was also featured in TCU Magazine’s Winter 2020 edition for his groundbreaking work on reprogramming cells to potentially restore vision.

SOM Career and Professional Development Team is seeking Physician Mentors!

The SOM Career and Professional Development team is recruiting board-certified physicians to share their career experiences with students. There are four different ways this can be accomplished: Lunch and Learn Speaker, Career Advisor, Mentor, and/or Whole Person Doctor Series. If interested, please reach out to the Career and Professional Development team at MDCareer@tcu.edu

Grand Rounds Description:

In the last decade, many schools in the U.S. have seen an uptick in interdisciplinary programs that combine the methodologies of the arts and humanities with the philosophies of medical practice. Though this may seem new, this relationship between medicine and the arts and humanities is historically informed. In this Grand Rounds session with The Compassionate Practice®, we will show you a peak behind the curtain of our unique spin on the medical arts and humanities, framing our unique pedagogy within the history of medicine. Participants will get to experience at least one of our exercises, and will learn more detail about how our theatre and arts-based pedagogy falls into an interdisciplinary tradition. Please e-mail MDFacultyDev@tcu.edu for session details.

Educational Technologies Office Hours

| May 17, 2021 | 2:00 PM – 3:00 PM | Via Zoom | No RSVP |

May’s Ed Tech Office Hours will occur Monday, May 17th instead of May 18th due to a Faculty Development conflict. Thank you!

Join Shelby Miller (Academic Technologist) and Carrie Patterson (Instructional Designer) for Educational Technologies Office Hours the third Tuesday of every month.
This is a time for you to ask your Ed Tech questions, brainstorm ideas, or get a demo of that month’s featured technology. We are happy to continue to meet with you individually at a different time if this does not work for your schedule.

Featured technology
- May – iClicker

Please e-mail Shelby Miller at Shelby.Miller@tcu.edu for the Outlook Calendar invite for the full series.
